

Attention: Teachers, Leaders, Mentors and Coaches

Whether you are in a coaching or mentoring role within your school, or would just like to improve your abilities in enhancing the performance of others, this workshop offers you so much. Current research shows us that supporting the professional growth of our teachers by facilitating pedagogical dialogue and providing effective feedback will have significant benefits for our students. Discover how to maximise the experience of both being coached, and being a coach. The day will provide teachers the opportunity to develop their skills and understandings in areas such as:

- effective conversation strategies
- classroom observation techniques
- collecting evidence
- setting goals and tracking progress
- using data effectively
- understanding the learning cycle
- preparing beginning / pre-service teachers for registration
- Giving accurate, effective feedback to colleagues

And much more ...

Not only will your coaching and mentoring skills be enhanced, but your overall leadership qualities will be taken to another level.
